SPECIAL NOTE: Given the current health directives in California and Monterey County, classes will be conducted online via Zoom. The exact meeting duration for each online class, including possible later start times and earlier end times to allow for meetings with individual students, will be determined by the instructor but will fall within the scheduled time periods. If directives in place on June 8 allow, we may be able to hold small in-person orientation sessions at Palma to enable students to meet teachers and obtain course materials. A later transition to on-campus classes may be possible as permitted by evolving directives, but families who prefer to continue with distance learning throughout entire duration of summer school may do so. Any students and teachers who are at Palma, whether for an orientation session or possible on-campus classes, will be required to wear masks and observe physical-distancing directives.
